

From Probable to Possible

- Who you are today is a culmination of who you have been. You look forward and see what's probable. God wants to bust that wide open and help you see what's possible for your life, not just what's probable.
- Experiences or events that shape who we are today, reflect in the way we parent
- Limiting belief versus Core belief
- When we have the awareness of how the event or experience shapes who we are today, then we can choose to carry it forward, leave it behind, or transform it
- "When you change the way you look at things, the things you look at tend to change."
